Structured Investment Option — Tracks an index, so if the index goes up at the end of the Segment's investment period (which lasts 1, 3 or 5 years depending on Segment selected), amounts in the Segment earn the same rate of return as the index up to the Segment's Performance Cap Rate. If the index goes down at the end of the Segment's investment period, a -10% or -20% Segment Buffer protects against the first 10% or 20% of losses. While you are protected from some downside risk, if the negative return is in excess of the Segment Buffer, there is risk of substantial loss of principal. Equitable may, upon advance notice, discontinue, suspend or change Segment offerings. The Structured Investment Option prospectus contains more information on Segment offering limitations and restrictions as well as expenses. The Structured Investment Option does not involve an investment in any underlying portfolio. Instead, it is an obligation of, and subject to, the claims-paying ability of Equitable Financial Life Insurance Company.

S&P 500 Price Return Index — Includes 500 leading companies in leading industries of the U.S. economy, capturing approximately 80% coverage of U.S. equities. The S&P 500 Price Return Index does not include dividends declared by any of the companies included in this index. Larger, more established companies may not be able to attain potentially higher growth rates of smaller companies, especially during extended periods of economic expansion. S&P®, Standard & Poor's®, S&P 500® and Standard & Poor's 500® are trademarks of Standard & Poor's Financial Services LLC (Standard & Poor's) and have been licensed for use by Equitable. Russell 2000® Price Return Index — Measures the performance of the small-cap segment of the U.S. equity universe. The Russell 2000® Price Return Index is a subset of the Russell 3000® Index representing approximately 10% of the total market capitalization of that index. It includes approximately 2,000 of the smallest securities based on a combination of their market cap and current index membership. The Russell 2000® Price Return Index does not include dividends declared by any of the companies included in this index. Stocks of small and mid-size companies have less liquidity than those of larger companies and are subject to greater price volatility than the overall stock market. Smaller company stocks involve a greater risk than is customarily associated with more established companies. The Russell 2000® index is a trademark of Russell Investments and has been licensed for use by Equitable. The product is not sponsored, endorsed, sold or promoted by Russell Investments, and Russell Investments makes no representation regarding the advisability of investing in the product.

MSCI EAFE Price Return Index — Is a free float-adjusted market capitalization index that is designed to measure the equity market performance of developed markets excluding the United States and Canada. The MSCI EAFE Price Return Index does not include dividends declared by any of the companies included in this index. International securities carry additional risks, including currency exchange fluctuation and different government regulations, economic conditions and accounting standards. The product referred to herein is not sponsored, endorsed or promoted by MSCI, and MSCI bears no liability with respect to any such product or any index on which such product is based. The prospectus contains a more detailed description of the limited relationship MSCI has with the company and any related products.

Personal Income Benefit™ — An optional feature available for an additional cost. Early withdrawals from the Personal Income Benefit™ account value or withdrawals from your Personal Income Benefit™ that exceed your Guaranteed Annual Withdrawal Amount may significantly reduce future Guaranteed Annual Withdrawal Amount payments. An excess withdrawal is caused when you withdraw more than your Guaranteed Annual Withdrawal Amount in any contract year from your Personal Income Benefit™ account value. The Personal Income Benefit™ feature is not appropriate if you do not intend to take withdrawals prior to annuitization. The Personal Income Benefit™ may not be available in all states or in all plans and is not available in contracts issued on or after November 10, 2023. Guarantees are based on the claims-paying ability of Equitable Financial.

EQ/Money Market — An investment in the EQ/Money Market Portfolio is neither guaranteed nor insured by the U.S. government, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency.

Although the portfolio seeks to preserve the value of your investment at $1.00 per unit, it is possible to lose money by investing in the portfolio.

Guaranteed Interest Option — No more than 25% of any contribution can be allocated to the Guaranteed Interest Option (GIO). We will not process any transfer requests that would result in more than 25% of the account value in the GIO. These allocation and transfer restrictions are currently waived in all states. We will notify participants 45 days in advance if these restrictions are reimposed. Guarantees are based on the claims-paying ability of Equitable Financial Life Insurance Company. Based on the investment method selected, there may be restrictions on the amounts that can be transferred out of the Guaranteed Interest Option. These restrictions are currently waived. We will notify participants 45 days in advance if these restrictions are reimposed.

The investment objectives and policies of certain funds may be similar to those of other funds managed by the same investment adviser. No representation is made, and there can be no assurance given, that any fund's investment results will be comparable to the investment results of any other fund, including another fund with the same investment adviser or manager.

This piece must be preceded or accompanied by a current prospectus. Please consider the charges, risks, expenses and investment objectives carefully before purchasing a variable annuity or making an investment option selection.

The EQUI-VEST® variable annuity is a long-term financial product that is generally used for retirement purposes and includes, among other fees and charges, a charge for withdrawals that exceed the free withdrawal amount. The amount of the withdrawal charge we deduct is equal to 5% of any contribution withdrawn attributable to contributions made during the current and 5 prior contract years measured from the date of the withdrawal. Withdrawal charges will no longer apply after the completion of 12 contract years. In general terms, an annuity is a contractual agreement in which payments are made to an insurance company, which agrees to pay out an income stream or a lump-sum amount at a later date. An annuity contract that is purchased to fund a qualified retirement plan should be purchased for the annuity's features and benefits other than tax deferral. For such cases, tax deferral is not an additional benefit for the annuity. You may also want to consider the relative features, benefits and costs of this annuity with any other investment that you may have in connection with your retirement plan or arrangement. Amounts in the annuity's variable investment options are subject to market risk, including the loss of principal. Variable investment options can fluctuate in value and are not guaranteed. Individuals cannot directly invest in an index.
