Frequently asked questions

Q

I have a possible pro athlete case, what should I do first?

A

Prior to submitting a case, we recommend you first contact one of our underwriters to confirm available retention and eligibility.

Do you have a team cap?

No, we do not currently limit how much coverage we are willing to write for a given team. However, should multiple players on a given team be submitted, approval from underwriting leadership may be required. Equitable reserves the right to limit exposure, should there be an unacceptable concentration of risk.

Is an inspection report needed and will the client be contacted during the application process?

No. Unless the insured is over age 70 and the face amount exceeds $5 million, only an e-inspection report, which does not require the insured to be contacted, will be obtained.

Why is commission levelized?

The team-owned professional athlete market is a distinct market for term that presents unique characteristics that may affect the decision to retain the policy. Levelized compensation provides some alignment with such considerations, enabling Equitable to offer term products to this market.

Is COIL Institutional SeriesSM (COIL) available?

Yes, COIL is available if all submission criteria are met. Underwriting requirements and consideration remains the same as traditional coverage and products.

Is any special consideration given to build for pro athletes?

No, build is assessed as per our traditional guidance.

Since offers are limited to your retention only, is facultative reinsurance available?

Yes. Facultative coverage can be sought through our reinsurance carriers. However, ultimate acceptance, and the amount of coverage available, is at the discretion of the reinsurers.

Is Equitable's Long-Term Care ServicesSM Rider (LTCSR) available?

Our LTCSR is available on permanent products for personal coverage only. It is not available for team-owned, contract coverage.

Can labs completed for a team physical be used instead of insurance evidence?

Insurance labs include testing not included on most traditional lab panels (examples include HIV, cocaine, nicotine, Hepatitis screen, etc.). Therefore, we are unable to accept team labs in lieu of insurance labs. However, you can arrange for the paramedical exam and labs to be completed at the same time as the player's team physical.

Can the client's team physician take part in the insurance paramedical exam?

When circumstances warrant, the team MD may participate in the player's insurance examination. Though, prior to proceeding, preapproval is required from Equitable's underwriting team. Labs will still need to be processed through one of our approved vendors.

Do you accept pro athletes who are not U.S. citizens, but play and reside full time in the United States?

Yes, coverage can be offered on non-citizens provided they hold an acceptable U.S. visa and meet the appropriate requirements. In these instances, retention is reduced to $10 million and any/all foreign travel is considered. Please reach out to a large-case underwriter or member of our specialty markets team to determine if a particular athlete qualifies.
