Portfolios featuring Equitable Financial Life Insurance Company's proprietary managed-volatility strategy (or invest in underlying portfolios that feature this strategy) that currently utilize futures and options to manage equity exposure when market volatility increases above specific thresholds set for the portfolio. It is not possible to manage volatility fully or perfectly, which could cause these portfolios to underperform or experience losses.

Amounts in variable investment options are subject to fluctuation in value and market risk, including loss of principal.

You should consider the risks, charges, expenses and investment objectives carefully before investing. For a prospectus containing this and other information on the investment options listed here, you should contact your financial professional. Please read the prospectus carefully before investing or sending money.

The Retirement Strategies℠ investment options contain various types of investments, including variable investment trusts and mutual funds. Certain investment funds may contain different investments than similarly named investment funds of a different type offered by the money manager. Investment results of the different types of similarly named investments may be higher or lower. Please see the investment fund's prospectus for more information on the type and structure of the investment.

A group variable annuity is a long-term financial product that is used for retirement purposes. In its most basic form, a group annuity is a contract between a company and an insurance company to allow company employees (participants) to make contributions toward a retirement account and then be able to receive payments from the account during retirement years. There are contract limitations and fees associated with variable annuities, which include, but are not limited to, mortality and expense risk charges, sales and surrender charges, administrative fees and charges for optional benefits. Amounts in a variable annuity's investment portfolios are subject to fluctuation in value and market risk, including loss of principal. A financial professional can provide cost information and complete details. Withdrawals are subject to normal income tax treatment and, if taken prior to age 59½, may also be subject to an additional 10% federal tax.

Retirement Strategies℠ is a group deferred flexible premium combination fixed and variable annuity contract and is a service mark of Equitable Financial Life Insurance Company. The Retirement Strategies℠ variable annuities are issued by Equitable Financial Life Insurance Company and distributed by Equitable Advisors, LLC (member FINRA, SIPC) (Equitable Financial Advisors in MI & TN).
