Capital gains and dividends

Capital gains tax rates vary depending on whether the gains are short term or long term. Dividend tax rates vary depending on whether the dividends are identified as ordinary or qualified. Ordinary dividends and short-term gains on investments owned for 1 year or less are taxed at the taxpayer's ordinary income rates. Qualified dividends and long-term gains on investments owned for more than 1 year are taxed as follows:

Required minimum distribution (RMD) calculation

For most taxpayers, the RMD is calculated as the year-end fair market value divided by the applicable distribution factor obtained in the Uniform Table (IRS Publication 590 Appendix B). Beneficiaries of an IRA and married IRA owners whose spouse is more than 10 years younger use different tables. Consult IRS Publication 590 for the tables and factors.
