

Adding flexibility to inherited IRAs

Make the most of 10 years

Meet Sophia

When Sophia's mother passed away, she was the beneficiary.

- Age 55
- Inherited IRA: $500k
- At highest earning potential and doesn't need income now

While most non-spousal beneficiaries of IRAs are required to receive their inheritance over a period of 10 years, their investment options are not all the same.

We believe you should have choices that fit your needs. With Investment Edge®, you'll have flexibility on how you can invest your inherited IRA funds over the 10 years you'll be receiving your payments. You can choose from three different ways of investing — all within one investment vehicle to help keep things simple. By diversifying between 90+ individual investment options, packaged portfolios and our Structured Investment Options, you can lower portfolio level costs, cut risk and control your investment strategy in one place.

Let's take a look at the benefits a partially protected strategy can offer over a 10-year mixed market with up and down years. (April 1998–April 2008, S&P 500)
